

FAVORABLE AND DISTURBING ANGLES OF BUSINESS AND EMPLOYMENT

Government Officials, Watching Closely, Find Trade Situation Sound But Real Problem Imminent Because of Unemployment Resultant From Cut in Production.

WEST ALBANY SHOPMEN BACK

In the West Albany car shops of the New York Central approximately 900 car workers who were laid off December 23 resumed their jobs today. The complete force of the shops returned with the exception of the freight car building department where the work will be carried on by a one-half working force, the men there returning according to priority of employment. Black business is the excuse given and the men are promised that if business picks up this month they will all be taken back. This same condition also affects other department workers in West Atlantic who were laid off. Orders to employ in the main factory and production centers of the United States. Most disturbing in the entire unemployment situation, as it was viewed today by Governor Harding and his associates in the federal re-

Anybody who was laid out prior to December 23.

Men laid off at the Kingston shops did not return to work today, and it was stated by one of the officials that no information had been received as to when the men would be recalled.

FARM SCHOOL AT NEW PALTZ

The Ulster County Farm Bureau in cooperation with the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca is planning to hold several extension schools in the county this winter. The first one is a farm mechanics school scheduled at Johnson's Garage, New Paltz, on January 12 to 15 inclusive.

The Farm Bureau Association feels it is fortunate in being able to arrange with the college for this school and hopes that the farmers of New Paltz community will realize this great opportunity for them to get expert help with their problems.

By no means are these schools a new thing in the county as successful ones have been held in previous years in your community of New Paltz. During the latter part of the week two joint women's sessions will be held on home conveniences, and the time for these sessions will be announced later. The program for the school is as follows:

Tuesday, January 11.

9:15 to 9:30 a. m.—Roll call. Some far bureau matters, E. L. Chase.

9:30 to 10:30 a. m.—The gas em-tion: Overhauling an engine, valve grinding, carbon removing, fitting piston rings, adjusting bearings, F. G. Behrends.

2:30 to 3:00 p. m.—Demonstration: Rope splicing, C. R. Bullard.

3:00 to 4:00 p. m.—Gas engine ignition—low tension, F. G. Behrends.

Wednesday, January 12.

9:30 to 10:30 a. m.—Gas engine ignition; high tension, F. G. Behrends

10:30 to 11:00 a. m.—Belt lacing and pulley sizes, C. R. Bullard.

11:00 to 12:00 a. m.—Carburetors and fuels, F. G. Behrends.

1:00 to 2:00 p. m.—Magneto and magneto timing, F. G. Behrends.

2:00 to 3:00 p. m.—Practice in knot tying and rope splicing, C. R. Bullard.

3:00 to 4:00 p. m.—Gas engine lubrication, cooling and governing systems, F. G. Behrends.

Thursday, January 13.

8:00 to 9:00 a. m.—Continuation of work from Wednesday morning. In women's clothing factories alone 40 per cent of the normal 75,000 workers are idle. In Paterson, N. J., only a bare 10 per cent of the workers are on the job."

Other unfavorable angles of the New York situation was noted by the board as follows:

"In Syracuse 100 factories formerly employing 46,000 men have laid off 13,000. Auburn, Fulton and Oneida, with normal payrolls of 15,000 last spring, show only 10,000 at work. In Luca and Cohoes, reductions in the knit goods industry show only 10 per cent of the workers employed. In Troy 10,000 idle workers were reported, mostly women and girls in the collar factories. In Rome, Oswego, Watkins and Herkimer, where 22,000 are usually employed, 8,500 are idle."

The only bright spot in the labor situation was observed in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, Note: For this work three or four men must bring in an engine to overhaul. Engines brought in Thursday morning will be ready to take home at close of the school.

9:30 to 12:00 a. m. and 1:00 to 4:00 p. m.

10:00 p. m.—Overhauling and cleaning engine, F. G. Behrends and C. R. Bullard.

Friday, January 14.

8:30 to 10:15 a. m.—Hot and cold running water in the kitchen, F. G. Behrends.

10:15 to 12:00 a. m.—Tools and pipe fitting, C. R. Bullard.

1:00 to 2:00 p. m.—Pumps, rams and water systems, F. G. Behrends.

2:30 to 4:00 p. m.—Demonstration of the new equipment, in- creased output with decline in employment is seen in the export situation. Up to this time, exports have been going forward in heavy volume, but the credit difficulties confronting exporters and foreign buyers, indicate a sharp decline early in the new year.

COUNTY NETS ALL ITS INCOME TAX

Check For $706.77 Represents Last Installment of $51,521.05 Received Here From State—Ready For 1930 Check.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Jan. 3.—Ulster county received a New Year's Greeting today through County Treasurer Lounsbury in the form of a check for $706.77 the final installment of the county's portion of the 1919 state income tax receipts.

The state wide allotment was $250,000, making the total amount received by New York city and the various counties outside the Greater City $18,210,000. The total income tax receipts were $36,500,000. One half of this sum has been paid to the state treasurer for general purposes. With the task of collecting and distributing the 1919 tax out of the way, District Director J. DePuy Hasbrouck of the Kingston district and his assistants are turning up the cash registers, sharpening lead pencils and getting ready to distribute stacks of blanks during the 1920 rush. Persons who pay a tax for the first time can secure blanks at the office of the district director.

"This step will not be necessary in the case of 1919 taxpayers," explained the district director, "as the bureau will mail them the blank form. This not only covers individual taxpayers, both resident and non-resident, but also partnerships. The tax is payable any time between January 1st and April 15th, but it is urged that returns be filed early to avoid the rush during the final weeks."

The total payments made to Ulster and nearby counties on account of the state's first income tax follow:

Get The Grinding Habit

If a food expert came along and outlined a plan to you whereby you could save from 12 to 25 per cent of the food you and your family have been in the habit of eating—if he outlined such a plan—which would not necessitate any sacrifice on your part, you'd follow it, wouldn't you?

While we won't attempt to tell you how you and your family can live more cheaply, we will, however, undertake to outline a very simple plan whereby you can save from 12 to 25 per cent of the food ordinarily eaten by your live stock, involving no sacrifice to the stock. It is just this—GRIND YOUR FEED!

Ground feed is readily digested so that the full food value is utilized and converted into beef, butter, horse power or pork. The saving over feeding whole feed, as already indicated, amounts to from 12 to 25 per cent, which represents the proportion of whole feed that passes through the intestinal tract undigested—wasted.

GET THE GRINDING HABIT— and do your grinding with an INTERNATIONAL FEED GRINDER.

LEGISLATURE CONVENES JAN. 5

And Members Are Wondering How They Can Carry Out Miller's Economy Program and Kill Direct Primary and Daylight Saving.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, Jan. 3.—Legislators who began gathering here today for the start of the 1921 session Wednesday freely expressed some apprehension for the work ahead of them—the call to meet Governor Miller's economy proposals—and are awaiting uneasily for the new executive's first message. Leaders plan to begin legislative work in earnest. Organization of both houses will be effected without delay and the grind should start probably next Monday.

Caucuses of both parties are scheduled for tomorrow night. They are expected to be harmonious and result in the selection of Clayton F. Lusk of Cortland as majority leader in the senate; H. Edmund Machold of Jefferson, speaker of the assembly; Simon L. Adler of Rochester, majority floor leader in the lower house; James J. Walker, minority senate leader; and Charles D. Donahue, minority assembly leader. Assembly McGinnis of Chautauque is expected to head the assembly ways and means committee.

There is little likelihood of changes in the desk and clerical forces in either house.

Leaders look forward to the introduction of measures designed to strip the state comptroller and the secretary of state of their tax collection functions as one of the first steps in the carrying out of the Miller economy plans. Elimination of at least three bureaus in the state industrial commission with consequent topping off of considerable personal service, is expected to be called for in another of the early bills to be introduced.

Carrying out of Governor Miller's campaign promise, the abolition of the direct primary system, in accordance with Republican platform declarations, is another matter to be disposed of early in the session.

Repeal of the daylight savings law will be attempted.

While investigation of the New York city administration will be asked by Senator Theodore Douglas.

7,000 HARD COAL MINERS STRIKE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Hazleton, Pa., Jan. 3.—Seven thousand anthracite coal miners struck today. Lehigh Valley and Navigation collieries and mines from Mauch Chunk to Tamaqua were tied up. Leaders of the miners last week demanded the discharge of sixty Spaniards and Portuguese, claiming that their inability to speak English made it impossible to observe the safety rules in gaseous places and gave the company until today to dismiss them.

Officials of the Lehigh corporation state the men were hired to clean ditches and do other work that local hands declined to do and that a capable foreman is able to speak their language in charge.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 3.—There was a display of strength at the resumption of business on the stock exchange today, after the double holiday, but the strong tone was of short duration and after opening, gains ranging from fractions to over 1 point, prices generally receded to below Friday's final figures. Steel Common rose 3/4 to 31 1/2 and then yielded to 30 1/2. Reading dropped 1/4 to 84. Southern Pacific rose 1/4 to 101 from which it yielded to 99 1/2. These movements indicated the action of the entire market except in some stocks where there was pressure from the start. Baldwin after making a gain of 1/4 to 86 1/2 declined to 85. Some of the low priced rails held strong throughout the early trading, but where reactions did not occur it was because they were neglected after the initial transactions. Crucible Steel fell 2 points to 71.

Traders were on the short side during the forenoon, many issues sustaining sharp declines. St. Paul preferred was most active of the most valued industrial and interest was attached to the apparent accumulation of this stock, which has been in progress for some time. The stock, after opening down 1/2, to 43 1/2 rose to 44 1/2.

The market closed steady; government bonds unchanged, railway and other bonds steady.

HOW TO "HELP" FARMERS.

Among the remedies offered for the farmers' difficulties, due to the declining prices of foodstuffs and the scarcity of labor, the one urged by George Smith of Colorado commands attention because of its novelty and simplicity. This agriculturist does not demand relief from the national government in the form of credit extensions and a high tariff on farm products. According to a dispatch to the New York Herald, he writes to the governor of his State urging a direct remedy especially for the shortage of labor, as follows:

My wife is sick and I can't hire any house help. You are a good governor, or the people wouldn't have elected you by such a large majority the second time. You should originate some good help for farmers, and I offer you something to help the farmers and you can lead all the other governors if you can get it made a law. It is let the city men have one wife and the farmers have two wives. You see, one could help the other, and a farmer could more surely raise boys to work the farm and not need to hire at high wages. Then the farmers could sell crops cheap and make money, and living in cities would be cheaper, and many young men would leave cities to be on a farm and have two wives. I am certain a farmer can't get any help unless it is born and raised on a farm. Experience is needed every time. You would be a better man than Lincoln if you can get the United States to let all the farmers have two wives. You see the farmer would be independent of hired help, both on farm and in housework. A farmer could often marry two sisters, or good pals. Think it over.

What the answer was is not recorded, but if Governor Shoup is a married man of experience he must have been interested to know what Mrs. Smith thought of her husband's proposition. The difficulty thus suggested seems not to have occurred to the advocate of farm-house polygamy. Undoubtedly two wives could do more work than one, and when one is sick the other could keep the pot boiling and put the wash out on the line, but if jealousy caused them to use up more than half their time in verbal passages at arms the increased amount of labor inside of the house might not be very great. It is likely enough, however, that two families of boys would put forward the labor of the field; it is even possible that at first the present drift from the farms to the cities might be altogether reversed—if farmers could have two wives and townsmen only one. But could the popularity of the new farm life be maintained after the responsibilities of polygamy became generally known? It is not recorded whether Solomon regarded his multitude of wives as more a care and expense than a good money investment, but it is rather significant that once, when pretty low in spirit, the took pen or stylus in hand and confessed: "The contentions of a wife are a continual dropping," and "a continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike."

George Smith's belief that the governor of Colorado "would be a better man than Lincoln" if he would "get the United States to let all the farmers have two wives" recalls Lincoln's objection to negro slavery, an institution that brought prosperity to a few but made it harder than ever for the poor white man to earn a living. The system of the Mormons also had its drawbacks, although in consequence of their numerous wives and many children they are said to have caused the Utah wilderness to blossom as the rose. Quite apart from objection on moral grounds, Mr. Smith's plan would be likely to suffer from both the clamor of first wives and of townsmen objecting to class legislation discrimination against them.

LIABILITY TO ERROR

Reformers prone to think that there is the one sure short cut to the correction of mankind, and that people who disagree with them are not only wrong but—as Mr. Roosevelt used to say—"wickedly wrong"—need to be pointedly reminded occasionally of humanity's liability to error. A useful as well as an amusing reminder of the point may be found in the following advertisement for a certain medicine published in the Freeman.

Start with the memory of a cold. Nothing, nothing was recorded by many respectable citizens as a dangerous habit. The bathtub made its first appearance in 1842 in Cincinnati; the rash citizen who introduced this novelty was Adam Thompson, who exhibited it to his guests at a Christmas party. Mr. Thompson was severely criticized in the public press. The bathtub was referred to as an example of epicurean luxury, evidence of an undemocratic tendency and a dangerous departure from the virtue and simplicity of honored ancestors. A year later it had invaded Philadelphia and become a subject of consideration by the common council. An ordinance prohibiting bathing between November 1 and March 15 failed of passing by only two votes.

In the same year—1843—the Virginia legislature showed its wisdom in taking a business view of the situation. It decided to punish through their pocketbooks those backsliders from democratic simplicity. The legislature laid a tax of $20 a year on bathtubs set up in the state. Hartford, Providence, Charleston and Wilmington, Del., followed the wise example, and each laid a special and very heavy water rate on all persons who owned bathtubs. Boston was a little slow in taking action to check this dangerous reversion to undemocratic habits; but, once its puritanical fire was aroused, its action was drastic. It made bathing unlawful except on medical advice!

Hasbrouck of Kingston on Sunday afternoon spoke to a representative audience of Saugerties people on the destitute condition of children in Europe preparatory to the drive for funds to be made Sunday, January 9. Mail Service Needs Men.

People may now pursue here special courses aimed directly at mail service and departmental positions in the service of the United States government, paying beginning salaries ranging from $1,400 to $1,800 a year, with opportunities for advancement. An important addition to the civil service department of the Moran Business School, Burgevin building, provides courses designed especially to meet the requirements of civil service examinations. As a result Kingston young men desiring to prepare for the positions of railway mail clerk, post office clerk or carrier and rural delivery carrier may now receive personal instruction in the subjects required in the examinations leading to these positions at day or evening sessions of the Moran School. Those unable to attend the regular sessions will receive instruction by correspondence, with the privilege of calling at the school for special help whenever needed. These courses supplement the regular civil service courses for stenographers and bookkeepers which have already paved the way for many Moran graduates to high grade government positions. Examinations are being conducted frequently for stenographers and bookkeepers; there is a constant demand for men and women trained in these branches.

JULIAN DICK DIES.

From Wound Accidentally Inflicted By Friend.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 3.—Julian Dick, cotton broker who was accidentally shot at a New Year's party by George Brooks, an intimate friend, died at a hospital here today. A transfusion of blood operation wherein the blood was furnished by Brooks's brother, proved futile.

It was not known whether any charge would be lodged against Brooks. Frank Dick, a brother of the dead cotton broker, exonerated Brooks, who was at liberty.

Brooks, the cotton broker's wife and other relatives were at Dick's bedside when he died.

Dick was shot when Brooks picked up a revolver from a shelf in Dick's apartment accidentally pulling the trigger while examining the weapon. Both served in the war as captains and were long friends.

BIG ELM GETS
FIRST PRIZE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The prize for the biggest tree in New York state has been awarded to Charles J. Richards, editor of the Gowanda News, for an elm tree which is nearly thirty feet in circumference at 4½ feet from the ground.

Honorable mention is given to the following, five contestants: Black walnut at Setauket, L. I., proposed by David M. Krick, Newark, N. J.; "Teddy's Delight," triple linden, at Phelps, N. Y., proposed by Dr. F. H. Wiswell, Phelps, N. Y.; Umbrella elm at Avon, N. Y., proposed by W. G. Markham, Avon, N. Y.; Cherry tree (too big for George Washington to cut) at Hempstead, L. I., proposed by Walter S. Funnell, editor of the Hempstead Inquirer.

American elm, winner of Utica public contest, conducted by city park commission, with Egmont Brower as the winner of the Utica contest.

The contest was opened by the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse as the result of a question whether the Setauket tree was the largest tree of any kind east of the Mississippi. It was thought to be a matter of interest to determine which is the largest tree, and the contest thus started was taken up by New York Forestry, publication of the state forestry association, and American Forestry, published by the American Forestry Association.

The winning tree has these remarkable dimensions: Circumference, 30 inches from the ground, 34 feet, 2 inches; at six feet, circumference, 23 feet, 7 inches; height over 100 feet. It has no branches for 50 feet above the ground, and its circumference at that point is 20 feet.

Teddy's Delight is barred from the prize, though even larger, because it is not one tree but three. The George Washington cherry is probably the largest cherry tree in the country, fourteen feet in diameter. The umbrella elm is nationally noted for its symmetry, but was too small to compete with the Gowanda elm.

The Utica entry was selected by a city contest, and is 17 feet 6 inches in circumference.

A walnut fancier, A. C. Pomeroy, of Lockport, N. Y., proposed an elm 19 feet 10 inches in circumference, 133 feet high. Though disappointed in his competition, he has offered a $5-walnut tree to every tree entered in the contest, which surpassed his competitor, and two such walnut trees to the winner of the state contest.

DE VALERA HAS NOT BEEN FOUND

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 3. Tangible clues as to the exact whereabouts of Eamon de Valera, the elusive president of the Irish republic, were still lacking today and the morning newspapers were filled with speculative stories.

The Central News correspondent at Londonderry telegraphed that belief is prevalent there that de Valera landed on the Donegal coast which is wild and desolate, affording many fine places for concealment.

Mrs. de Valera, at her home in Greystones, has been besieged by reporters since official announcement was made that her husband had arrived in Ireland. She admitted that she had received hundreds of letters and post cards from her husband while he was in the United States. Asked if she had received any word from him since his return, she smiled and answered: "I would rather not say."

Some of Mrs. de Valera's friends believe that she has not only heard from her husband but has also seen him. While she refused to discuss the whereabouts of her husband, Mrs. de Valera was enthusiastic over the United States. There was a large American flag hung up in the main hall of her home.

Wherever he is, it is certain that de Valera is engaged on peace. There is ground for belief that he is conferring with the most influential leaders of the Irish republican movement.

Although the morning newspapers printed no editorial comment upon the official reprisals of the British military authorities in the vicinity of Cork for the ambush of British policemen near Middleton, surprise and condemnation were voiced in headlines over the dispatches.

"Open wantonness in Ireland," said the Star.

"British militarism threatens the mask," said the Daily News.

CONSTANTINE'S
GOV'T HARD UP

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 3.—Despite their protests against the return of King Constantine to the throne of Greece, Great Britain and France have decided to permit their representatives to remain in Athens, at least for the time being, according to information reaching the state department today.

In the absence of any information that Great Britain and France have changed their attitude, officials here believed that the English and French ministers were being kept in Athens as observers.

This government will not be a party to any attempt to influence the international affairs of Greece. It was stated today. President Wilson takes the view that since a majority of the Greek people voted for the return of Constantine, they are entitled to have him as king.

There will probably be no question as to recognition, there having been no break in diplomatic relations.

Edward Capps, the American minister to Greece, is now at Athens and is reporting to the state department almost daily. His reports are said to indicate that a serious financial situation exists today in Greece and that Constantine's government faces bankruptcy unless it can engineer large loans abroad.

Under the war time powers, the government has authority to make loans to Greece. Considerable sums were lent her during hostilities, but she never received the full authorized quota. Operations of the Greek army in Asia Minor are reported to be greatly handicapped by lack of funds and there is some reason to believe that Bolshevism may gain a foothold there if immediate steps are not taken to relieve the situation.

LITVINOFF TO ACT FOR SOVIETS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Moscow, Jan. 3.—The Soviet government has begun to reorganize and strengthen its diplomatic service, according to indications here today. M. Litvinoff, who formerly held the Russian post as representative to the British, has just been named Russian envoy to Estonia, a very important post.

Reval, in Estonia, remains the principle Russian door to the outside world. Most important and financial matters are handled at Reval by representatives of all the union powers. Appointment of M. Litvinoff to the Estonian post makes it clear that the Soviet government plans to have dealings with the representatives of other nations who is not only intimately acquainted with conditions in Russia, but is familiar with foreign governments as well.

It will fall to M. Litvinoff to conduct future financial and commercial negotiations with non-Russian groups at Reval.

Peace treaties were completed here today between representatives of Finland and Soviet Russia. They will be put into effect immediately and regular diplomatic and commercial relations will be opened between Moscow and Helsingfors.

In Ulster County—Final Report of Chairman and Treasurer—County
Held $4,273.25 to City's $3,768.35.

The following is the final report of the chairman and treasurer of the fourth Red Cross Roll Call in Ulster county, Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck and E. E. Ougheltree, respectively.
The total amount for the city was $3,768.35 and for the county outside the city, $4,273.25, a good showing for after-the-war times. In addition to the financial report, the names of both city and county workers is given.

The reports of Judge Hasbrouck and Mr. Ougheltree follow:

To the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross.
Your committee beg to make the following report:

Too much credit cannot be given to the captains of the several wards of the city and towns of the county and their assistant workers. They accepted their responsibilities with singular devotion to your and their organization. They did their work generously not sparing themselves and nobly have achieved a very creditable result. Last year with the war in mind and heart the roll call membership was upwards of 11,000.
This year with the sound of drums and guns absent, with our generous citizenship solicited for many causes with a ceaseless vigilance the membership has mounted to upwards of 8,000.
The achievement is one of which the Atlantic division and our own chapter and captains and assistants should be proud.

In behalf of the chapter we desire to extend our sincere thanks to all of the noble men and women who have so conscientiously participated in the work. We know they ask no reward. It cannot, however, be escaped for "virtue hath its own reward."

Much credit also is due our treasurer,
E. E. Ougheltree and Miss Madeline E. Woerner who, together have done the immense work of receiving and tabulating the names of eight thousand members into towns and wards.

I submit the report of the treasurer and a list of captains and workers as far as we have been able to obtain them.

Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Chairman,
Fourth Red Cross Roll Call,
Ulster County Chapter, A. R. C.,
Kingston, N. Y.

Below is a statement showing the amounts received for membership in the American Red Cross by the captains of the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call in the several wards of the been turned over to the treasurer of the Ulster County Chapter, the total amount for the city being $3,768.35, and that for the county outside of the city, $4,273.25, these sums making a grand total of $8,041.60.

Respectfully submitted,

Finger Prints in Banks.

The system adopted by some banks of taking "signatures" by means of finger prints is not a new idea, but only a survival of a very old custom.
In the days when only a few people could write it was quite a usual thing for a person to signify approval of a document by making a thumb print on a dab of sealing wax.

—Able to Resist Colds.

Your system normally healthy should never catch cold. Your body is adjusted to take care of sudden changes in the weather.

It is when you are run down and your vitality is low that your body cannot adjust itself. Then you take cold.

If you keep your blood in good condition, with plenty of red corpuscles, you will be strong and your body will easily adjust itself to sudden changes. You will throw off the cold germs that go flying into the air when someone with a cold sneezes.

Red-blooded men, women and children eat well. They have plenty of energy. They go along with a smile because they feel right.

Try Pepto-Mangan, the successful tonic. It is a wonderful blood builder. Take it for a while till you feel right.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. The medicinal properties are the same.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Man-

COSTER LOSES CLOSE DECISION

Benny Coster, well-known in this city and who is a brother of Anthony Adala barber at 579 Broadway, lost his fifteen round fight on Saturday night in New York with Packer O'Gatty after going strong for fourteen rounds. The judges disagreeing and the decision being given to O'Gatty by the referee. Battling Nelson, Benny Coster's manager, was one of Vince Coffey's trainers in this city. In his account of the fight, Sunday night the New York Sunday Telegram says:
Packer O'Gatty of the east side settled an old score with his rival, Benny Coster, also of the east side, in the main bout of fifteen rounds at the Pioneer Sporting Club last night. At the end of the fight the judges disagreed and the referee, Battling Nelson, gave the decision to O'Gatty. It was one of the best bouts staged at the club since it opened. Coster almost had the fight clinched until the fourteenth round when O'Gatty knocked Benny down three times for the count of nine, the bell and the ropes saving Coster from a knockout. They fought twice before they met in the ring last night both times in Scranton, Pa. in no decision bouts. Both youngsters had their followers on hand in large numbers and when the decision was rendered it met with disapproval of the crowd. The majority of the fans thought that Coster at least earned a draw. Coster argued a long time in the ring after the battle with Battling Nelson until he was finally persuaded by his manager to leave. Coster weighed 119 and O'Gatty 121.

SUPPER AND STUDY.

Rondout Presbyterian Church to Hold Series Again This Winter.
Last winter the members of the Rondout Presbyterian Church under the able direction of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Charles G. Ellis conducted a series of Thursday evening suppers in the chapel followed by study classes. The series were so successful that it was decided to adopt the same plan again this year, and the first of the suppers will be held Thursday evening. The plan is for the entire family to attend the supper and remain after for the various classes. The supper will be served from 6 to 6:30 o'clock and will cost twenty-two cents a plate. The study and conference hour for the various groups will be from 7:30 to 8:15 o'clock. The study books to be considered that winter are "On the Firing Line with the Sunday School Missionary," "The New East of the Crossroads of the World," "The Church and the Community," and "Money the Acid Test." Each class will be in charge of a competent instructor and it is expected that every member of the congregation will participate in the supper and study hour.

Removing Iron Rust.
Dampen the spot with water, rub with a lump of citric acid and lay in the sun. If the spots are not gone by the time the cloth is dry, dampen and lay in the sun again. When the fabric is very delicate it is better to dissolve the acid in a little water and dampen the spot with the solution.

FORD WORKERS DISAPPOINTED

Their Proposal That Plant be Turned Over to Them to Make Cars for Themselves Not Accepted.
Detroit, Mich. Jan. 3.—The big Ford plant at Highland Park was not turned over to the Ford workers this morning. New Year's day a circular was distributed in the name of the "Committee Representing the Ford Workers," requesting that the management turn the plant over to the workers on Monday and permit them to manufacture automobiles for their own use.
"We, the employees, agree to pay for all raw material used and to maintain all existing departments and return the plant in even better condition."
At daylight a crowd began to gather. At 6:30 it was estimated there were 1,000 there, ready to begin turning out machines "for their own use." But the big doors did not open. On the contrary, watchmen stood outside of the various entrances and said "Nothing doing."
When the men saw that the plant would not open, they went quietly home.

CHICHESTER 44, HUNTER 36

Chichester played the fastest game they had participated in this year when they defeated Hunter basketball team at Shandegnon Hall, Albany, on New Year's night. Chichester took the lead when Faulkner sent the ball to Frost and Frost dashed it back to Faulkner who immediately threw for a field goal. This happened in the first few minutes of play. In the second half Hunter pressed rather close but their opponents maintained a lead throughout. The pass work of both teams was good. Four of Jocelyn's baskets were long clean shots the ball touching neither backboard nor rim of basket. The score was 44 to 36. This is the second game between these teams Hunter having won the first in the Hunter hall. The lineup follows:

A graceful elm tree stands a dwarf-like house near the plant cover that exactly because it grows through its roof. It also grows the age 190 years. It was cut down as a very small tree when the house was to be built, but later was found to be pushing up the floor. Its persistent desire for growth was honored, and now it is a stately tree, with unusual surroundings.

"Y" OPEN HOUSE MUCH ENJOYED

The annual open house program of the Young Men's Christian Association for New Year's day was a varied and pleasing one, and a large number of people both young and old, those who are members of the association, and friends, were entertained during the day.
The entire building was open for inspection and the guests were shown the entire plant in full operation. In the business men's social rooms a billiard tournament was run off as also in the senior social rooms. The boys' department was open for inspection although no games were put out on account of the crowds. The luncheon was used in cooperation with the Woman's Auxiliary who served refreshments to the guests in the north parlor. The room was very prettily decorated with flowers and plants and a very enjoyable half hour was spent with the refreshments.
The bowling alleys were open throughout the day and every one was invited to roll a game free of charge just to see "what it is like." Business was rushing all the time the alleys were open.
The swimming pool was open for inspection and was literally full of both water and boys who did some of the usual aquatic stunts which they learn in class and in the summer at the "ole swimmin' hole."
Two games of basketball were scheduled and played during the afternoon. The preliminary game was between the boys of No. 2 school and Troop 2 of the Boy Scouts. Troop 2 won by a score of 10 to 4.
The Student A class all of whom are high school boys, played the Employed Boys in a closely contested game. The Student A class winning with 20 points to 13 for the Employed Boys.
The business men's volleyball classes played a series of 7 games. The teams played a five-five tie and the series finished 6 to 2 in favor of the Bolsheviks Bolsheviks vs. Thompson's Hams.
